Kevin Carroll joins the team at Heritage Partners International

Heritage Partners International (HPI) recently announced that Kevin Carroll has joined the executive search and consulting firm.

Mr. Carroll has more than fifteen years of executive recruiting and sales experience in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology and medical device industries. Prior to joining HPI, Mr. Carroll was Life Science Practice Leader at Phillips DiPisa where he focused on searches for senior executives in such roles as CEO, CFO, VP of Sales, Chief Medical Officer, as well as VP's of Regulatory, Bio Medical Informatics, Medical Affairs and Clinical Development.

"We are very pleased to have Kevin join our team", commented HPI Managing Partner, Kevin Butler. "During his career he has built a strong network of senior-level relationships with executives in healthcare companies and with world-renowned thought leaders in the US, (Europe and Asia,) and he will play an integral part in HPI's strategic growth – particularly with our expansion plans in Boston."

Among his other professional roles, Kevin was Director of National Accounts at The Bowdoin Group, where his work included recruiting senior-level management talent for commercial, medical and clinical affairs roles, as well as developing and managing large scale hiring projects for sales and field-based medical affairs teams. Kevin started his career in the life sciences industry selling pharmaceuticals for Bristol-Myers Squibb in Boston hospitals and clinics.

He also served in the military as an Army officer and aviator.

Kevin earned a B.A. from Providence College, Providence, RI. and also completed the Medical Device Management Certificate Program at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

He has lectured at Boston University and Worcester Polytechnic's graduate business programs on the topic of "Attracting Talent to Life Sciences and Medical Device Companies" and has spoken on the topic of "Realities of the CFO role in Life Sciences companies" for the Treasurer's Club of Boston.

Heritage Partners International is a multi-national retained consulting firm focused on solving our life science client's human capital challenges. Our consultants have an average of more than 10 years of experience in executive search and have worked for the world's top recruiting firms including Spencer Stuart, Heidrick & Struggles and Russell Reynolds as well as some of the top boutiques in the field.
